Virtues Explained

Faith

“Nobody reaches God’s presence until he has learned to believe that God exists, and that he rewards those who try to find him.” (Hebrews 11:6)

So how do we learn to believe? Through the theological virtue of faith — which is “man’s response to God, who reveals himself and gives himself to man.” (CCC 26). Faith, then, is embarking on the journey to find God. By faith “‘man freely commits his entire self to God.’ For this reason, the believer seeks to know and do God’s will.” (CCC 1814)

But it is not enough for faith to simply be within us, as a lit match burns in a dark room. We are compelled to fan those flames. We must encourage them with the complementary virtues of hope and love, and we must ask the Holy Spirit for the gift of understanding so that our faith will grow and strengthen.

Today is the eighth part of our 13 part series on Virtues. Be sure to come back weekly for new insights!

Next weekend we hold a special collection for the Church in Latin America. Our generosity supports many pastoral projects that benefit the faithful in Latin America and the Caribbean, including educational costs of seminarians and permanent deacons in Brazil and the funds to bring the sacraments to inmates in Ecuador’s most dangerous prison. Please consider supporting this worthy cause.
